

Website Terms of Use and Privacy Policy

By accessing, viewing, or using the material on InHealthOhio.org, you accept and agree to the following Terms of Use.

Information You Give Us

Any personally identifiable data that you enter on our website may be stored in order to assist you with your inquiry. The information may also be stored effort to continually improve communication and develop new services relevant to our members, providers, and the community-at-large. Personally Identifiable Information (PII) may include your name, address, e-mail address, information regarding your interests, and feedback. In order to protect your privacy, please do not use this website to communicate information to us that you consider confidential (such as your member number or social security number). If you wish to communicate such information please use one of our secure websites, web forms, or phone numbers/ mailing addresses provided.

If you choose not to provide the information, you can still enter the website; however you may be unable to participate in certain segments of the site or receive communications though our site.

We may also collect other information ("usage data") when you visit our website such as the type of browser you are using (e.g. Firefox, Internet Explorer, Safari), the type of operating system you are using (e.g. Windows XP/7 or Mac OS), and the domain name of your Internet service provider (e.g. earthlink.net, aol.com). We may use this information to improve the design and content of our website and to personalize your Internet experience. We may use this information to analyze website usage, as well as to offer you programs and services. Finally, we may use this type of information to solve problems with our server and to administer our website.

Cookies

When you view our website, we may store some information on your computer. This information may be in the form of "cookies." Cookies are small text files we place in your computer's browser to store your preferences and make your visit to our website more enjoyable. For example, we may use cookies to recognize your name when you return to our website. If you prefer, most browsers can be configured not to accept cookies or to indicate to the user when a cookie is being sent.

Data Sharing

We do not share, trade or sell personal information without your consent. However, we may share statistical data from our visitors with our business partners. For example, we may advise a partner that 20,000 people visited a web page to access particular information. On occasion, we may share personal data such as name, mailing address and e-mail address with vendors, partners or contractors of InHealth Mutual. These vendors perform services for InHealth Mutual and may not share or resell this information. InHealth Mutual will disclose information we maintain when required to do so by law. We will not disclose information to any third parties except in other ways consistent with this privacy policy. In any case in which we disclose the information, the disclosure shall be consistent with applicable laws and regulations and we will require the recipient to protect the information and use it only for the purpose it was provided.

Collection of Information By Third-Party Sites

Some of our pages may contain links to other sites whose corporate practices may be different than those of InHealth Mutual. Please consult the other sites' privacy statements, as we have no control over information that is submitted or collected by these other entities.

Your E-Mail

We want to hear your comments and questions and have provided several phone numbers, mailing addresses, and e-mail addresses throughout this Website for that purpose. However, you should be aware that most e-mail systems currently are not protected from third parties, who may be able to access your e-mail without your knowledge or permission. In order to protect your privacy, please do not use e-mail to communicate information to us that you consider confidential. If you wish to communicate such information please use one of our secure Web forms, or phone numbers/ mailing addresses provided.
